

THE STANFORD US-RUSSIA FORUM

2015 - 16
APPLICATIONS
DUE JUNE 1st
usrussia.stanford.edu

An exciting opportunity to travel to the United States and Russia and work with students from across the world on long-term, guided research.

Now running in its seventh year, the Stanford U.S.-Russia Forum (SURF) employs collaboration between American and Russian university students to identify, understand, and develop solutions to the most contentious issues facing both countries today. Through increased dialogue, interaction, and collaboration between Russian and American students, our hope is for the bonds fostered during SURF's eight-month curriculum to outlast the program itself. This fall, our joint delegation will meet in Moscow to kick-off this year's program. Will you be there? No previous background in US-Russia relations required. All fields of study encouraged to apply.

The world's only independent, fully student-run organization dedicated to cultivating U.S.-Russia cooperation on global issues.
